

DNP 670 : Preparing a Scholarly Leadership DNP Project Seminar

This course will examine and integrate the DNP practice role in a variety of patient care settings such as hospitals, long term care facilities, home health and/or community settings including public health. Experiential opportunities will inform practice decisions and the resultant patient care consequences of proposed actions. Role preparation will include legal and regulatory issues and preparation in methods of effective team leadership in interprofessional practice.

Credits 5