

MSES 510 : Clinical Exercise & Metabolism

This course provides you with an advanced understanding of the clinical effects and physiologic adaptations of the human body to exercise interventions. The effects of exercise on the organ systems of the body will be explored with an emphasis toward combating cardiovascular diseases, obesity, diabetes, and metabolic syndrome.

Credits 4