

Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.)

Degree Type

Master of Business Administration

Colby-Sawyer offers an online MBA to employees of our affiliate, Dartmouth Health. This degree may be completed in as little as two years. The curriculum can be customized for your individual industry and career goals.

Program Expectations

To succeed in the program students will need experience in management (for example, two years in a management position with staff oversight), experience with accounting, and experience with economics. If a student does not have experience in these areas and has not taken courses in these subjects, self-paced modules are available to learn the necessary skills and theories.

Program Application

Applicants must have a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and an undergraduate GPA of 2.5 or higher to be considered for admission.
